Credit Valley Conservation advises that Environment Canada is forecasting showers and severe thunderstorms this evening into tonight bringing localized heavy rainfall amounts in the range of 10-20mm during short period of time. Higher amounts of rainfall may occur due to thunderstorms.

Flooding of the Credit River and its major tributaries are not expected. However, intense rainfall associated with thunderstorms may result in minor flooding of small headwater and low-lying areas and urban areas. Some watersheds may respond with higher flows and water levels. As a result, local streams and rivers could become dangerous, especially in the vicinity of culverts, bridges and dams. Children should be warned to stay away from all watercourses.

CVC will continue to closely monitor weather and water levels in the watershed. The Watershed Conditions Statement for Flood Outlook will be in effect through Wednesday September 15, or until further notice.
